Writing a Ramadan Recipe

Writing a Ramadan recipe is a great way to look forward to Iftar! Using the different boxes, plan out your recipe for your friends to follow.

Don't Forget:

- Use a food related adjective to describe your recipe such as Delicious Dates or Mouthwatering Melon Cake.
- You will need to think about the ingredients you will need and how much will need to be used.
- You will need to put the instructions in order using connectives such as first, next, then and finally.
- You might need to use technical cookery verbs like whisk, sprinkle, slice and bake.
- You might also need to use cooking timings so the reader knows how long to cook the ingredients for.
- Pictures will help the reader to understand how to prepare the food and what it should look like.
- Make your recipe as easy to follow as you can. Write a first draft that can be tested on a friend to make sure it is easy to follow, then you can write the final recipe.
